

Why Jewish Education is important

By Josi

What is Jewish Education to Talmud Torah, my family, and me?

Jewish education to me is interacting with my peers, and hearing different perspectives of things, that I have never really thought about. I love learning new things.

D.C.

In the month of March, our class, Kitah Het took a trip to Washington D.C. We saw a bunch of cool things while we were there. A lot of these things had special impacts on my Jewish education, because we learned about all different groups of people. We connected all the things we saw together, and really thought about what it means to be Jewish. This trip was a great way to connect with our peers.

Holocaust: Holocaust Museum

Before we went on our trip to Washington D.C, we learned a lot about the Holocaust. We had to read a Holocaust novel, and we chatted about it in and out of class. Learning about the Holocaust is extremely important to me because we all need to teach the terrible atrocity to future generations, and having knowledge about the topic lets us do so. Us as jews grow together, and we need to stick together through the past, present, and the future.

Holocaust movies:

In class, Kitah Het watched two movies that had to do with the Holocaust. The Wave, and Schindler's list. Both of these movies were very sensitive. The Wave showed us how easy it is to follow a big group, because it's the cool new thing to do and Schindler's list showed us the story in the eyes of both the Jews, and the Nazis.

A Great Year At Talmud Torah

This year we accomplished so much, whether it was learning about the Holocaust, going to DC, learning about Israel and hearing many different speakers talk. It was so much fun interacting with new people and learning about new things!
